

Jennifer Graham is the Assistant Director for Weber County's Culture, Parks and Recreation Department. Jennifer has been with Weber County for over 28 years in various roles within the venue management industry. She is known for her knowledge and understanding of county government and budgeting. With over one thousand events and hundreds of employees in the department, she has developed a strong belief in and practices teamwork and good communication. Jennifer earned her BS in Accounting from Weber State University. She enjoys spending time with her husband, two adult sons, a soon to be daughter-in-law and one grand puppy. She enjoys camping, biking, hiking and her yard. Jennifer is known as the "binder geek" among the team, and she's good with that.
